BY A DIRECT VOTE OF THE PEOPLE

Superintendent of Public Instruction to Be So Chosen.

THE ACTION OF THE COMMITTEE

Vote Considered Safe, and Advecates Say It Will Not Be Changedg in Convention - Proceeding in

The Constitutional Convention in Committee of the Whole yesterday, by a vote of 33 to 21, decided that the report of the Education Committee should be so amended as to provide that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction be elected by a direct vote of the people. The amendment was offered by Mr. Withers, and was ably championed by witners, and was any champione. So, him and by Messrs, R. Waiton Moore, Keezell and others. Dr. McIlwaine and other members of the committee opposed it, and all, save Dr. Dunaway, voted against it. The advocates of the popular-election proposition are jubilant over, the result. It expresses the belief that the margin in their favor is so large that they will be able to have the action of the Committee of the Whole sustained by the convention when the report comes up for final action in that body. for final action in that body.

The question of how the superintendent shall be elected claimed nearly all the entire two-hour session, the body having convened at noon and adjourned about 2 o'clock P. M.

There were sixty-eight men.bers in their seats and a great many visitors were on the floor, prominent among them being several distinguished educators.

There was but little routine business, and no interesting new matters were in-

. A petition from the Baptist General Association of Virginia in favor of the Barbour-Quarles Louor resolution was read and referred.

The convention then went into a Committee of the Whole, and after accomplishing the results named above, acjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. THE DAY IN DETAIL.

THE DAY IN DETAIL.
The convention met at 12 o'c.ock. Prayer by R. v. Jere Witherspoon, of the Presbyterian Church.
Sixty-eight members responded to the roll-call, and the journal of Saturday's proceedings was read and approved. Memorials with reference to the sale of intoxicating liquors were presented. A resolution, adopted by the Virginia State Baptist Association in Richmond, asking for the adoption of the Quarles-Barbour liquor-license resolution, was presented, read and referred to the Committee on Bill of Rights.

On motion of Dr. McIlwaine, the convention went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Parks presiding, to further consider the report of the Committee on Section three, relating to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, was read.

Mr. Quaries offered a substitute, providing that the superintendent should be elected by the people of the State, the second term to begin after the next general election for Governor, and from then to be for four wars. to be for four years.

Chairman Mellwaine accepted the sub-stitute for the committee. Mr. Wise objected to the substitute, and Mr. Withers offered an amendment to the original report by inserting the words, "Who shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State."

would be state.

WOULD BE DEFEATED.

Mr. Mereoith said it the amendment was adopted the object of the committee to prevent having the schools controlled by political officers would be defeated.

He advocated the election of the super-intendent by the State Board of Education. It was doing he said a grave injustice. It was doing he said a grave injus-Intendent by the State Board of Educa-tion. It was doing, he said, a grave injus-tice to the people to ask them to elect an educational expert, for they has no facilities or means of knowing how to de-cide this question, and the practical re-sult would be that this officer would be selected by chance at a political conven-tion. He said it would in all probability be a demagogue who could succeed in picking up enough delegates after the candidates for Governor, Lieutenant-Gov-gernor Attorney-General and Secretary of ernor, Attorney-General and Secretary of the Commonwealth had got through their nominating struggles. Then the ques-tier would be, Does the candidate come neminating struggles.

tion would be, Does the candidate come from the right section of the State? not is he the very best man in all the State for the position? He declared that the memhers here who were constantly talking about the people should protect the people how from this grave probability.
Mr. Moere, of Fairfax: "How about your argument last Saturday?"
Mr. Meredith: "What I said then I
"State Land". That is past history."

Mr. Meredith: "What I said then bardly know. That is past history.' (Laughter.)

MR. WITHERS SPEAKS. MR. WITHERS SPEAKS.

Mr. Withers advocated the election of the superintendent by the people at the time time the Governor may be elected.
He said the proposed State Board was no automatic, self-perpetuating and selfcreative Board. Only two of the proposed nine members were to be elected. by the people being the Governor and the Attorney-General, and it was highly Amportant that the superintendent should Mao be elected by the people.

He declared that the people were thereughly qualified to select a superintendent. They certainly had the right to say who shall control their system of education. The very fact of their have ing this power would make them more interested and careful in its exercise. He thought the high character of ... State officers already elected by the people was freelf a refutation of Mr. Meredith's tharges that candidates were selected by manipulations of politicians alone.

Mr. Wise read a list of States which had superintendents selected by the State Board or appointed by the Governor. Ble contended that these States were those which were in the forefront of edugational development.

He said not a constituent of his in Rickmond had ever asked him to support n proposition to elect such an officer by the popular vote. He referred to a com-munication of Dr. Ruffner in The Sunday Times and poid a high tribute to his experience, ability and devotion to the public schools of Virginia. This man, he said, was best able of all men to give the best advice, and he opposed the making of a superintendent a political officer.

OUT OF POLITICS.
The State Board selected by the committee is the best tribunal to select a mittee is the best tribunal to select a proper educational expert. It will take the position out of the domain of partisan politics and insure its administration by a competent head.

Dr. Dunaway said he would favor the riection of the superintendent by the General Assembly. He said the report removed the election of the superintendent from the people to the lifth degree the from the people to the fifth degree, the from the people to the lifth degree, the most remote manner possible. It was, in his opinion, entirely too far away from them. Election by the people immediate-ly was most too close and by the General Assembly about right. He said he would not offer an amendment, but hoped some one would. He spoke his sentiments be-cause the committee had seen recent cause the committee had seen proper to cause the committee had seen proper to accept the substitute offered by Mr. Quarles. He was opposed to electing the puncrintendent by popular vote. I Judge Marshall said he ranked the judg-

The speaker strongly criticised the composition of the Board recommended by the committee and said it would become a foot-ball of politics. Legislatures in fu-ture, to get rid of the Board, might in future refuse appropriations to institutions just to get rid of a representative on the State Board or to change the personnel of the majority. He urged that the superintendent be elected by the people.

Chairman McIlwaine here said he had made a mistake in announcing that a majority of the committee was willing to accept the substitute by Mr. Quarles. MAKE THEM INELIGIBLE.

MAKE THEM INFLIGIBLE.

Mr. Brown, of the committee, stated that since discussion began he had seen every member of the committee and they had gone back to the original report, providing for the election of the superintendent by the State Reard of Edwardion. Board of Education.

Mr. James W. Gordon offered amendment, making a member of the State Board, or of any board of visitors of the public institutions ineligible for the office of super ntendent.

Mr. Mercdith offered a substitute, that the superintendent should not, duting his term of office, be a member of the board f visitors of the State institutions. Mr. Gordon accepted the substitute. It

Major Anderson offered an amendmentproviding for the election of a superintendent by the General Assembly.

He said he was first in favor of the proposition to elect this officer by the people but he considered the argument made by Messrs. Meredith, Wise and Dunnaway as unanswerable. In view of the high qualifications required of a suitable superintendent, it world be best to entrust the power of his election with the General Assembly.

General Assembly.
Such an emminent superintendent as Dr. Ruffner would never have been selected by the popular vote. It was through the General Assembly that such splendid officer was obtained. The ame might be said of his predecessor. Mr. Anderson then showed that if a mis-take was made in the selection by the Legislature, the cell could be corrected. If made by the State Board, it would be almost impossible to correct the mis-take, for the Board would rarely wish to reverse its own action. He contended that his amendment was a safe and wise middle course between the other two propositio

MAN BEST QUALIFIED. A State political convention, he said, was often moved by the consideration of the locality of a candidate, rather than by the peculiar fitness of the candidate for the position. He did not think this would be the case with the General Assembly. He thought that bedy would select the very best man qualified for the place, even were he to come from the county of the Governor, Lieutenant-Gov-county of the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor or any other State officer.

Mr. Glass said the committee especially considered the amendment offered by Major Anderson, and as a member of the General Assembly in the past, he and Major Anderson both knew that the question of merit of candidates did not enter into the question at all. He said both the question at all. He said both well knew that a majority of members were not competent to select men on any such a high basis. (Laughter.) The committee left to the Senate the confirmation of the selection made by the State Board and that was going far enough.

Mr. R. Walton Moore claimed that there was great inconsistency in the committee requiring that trustees be elected by the peopl and now allowing them to select the head of the school-system. He said th people had never failed to elect an expert as attorney-general and ...ey could be trusted to elect an expert as superin-tendent of public instruction.

Dr. Strange's Interesting Sermon at St. Paul's. Religious Notes.

Strange preache night at S. Paul's Church on "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's.' The sermon was an appeal for pure polities.

One of the faults of this country Dr. Strange declared to be the little active interest taken by Christian people in practical politics. He urged them to go into politics with their conscience, to help to elect good men and to keep politics high and pure. There is room for character in active political life. It counts for as much here as in other professions. If the good men stand together, said Dr. Strange, they can always have good government. A reference was made en passant to the teaching of the Bible in pubant to the teaching of the Bible in pub-lic schools. Dr. Strange believes that the Scripture should become a text-book in the schools and that it is for the Chris-tian people to discover how it can be made such.

THE FASTEST YACHT.

The "Viola," the Property of Capt. Goodwin is the Fastest on the James.

The most modern and perfect gasoline launch afloat in Southern waters is the Viola, the property of Capt. J. C. Goodwin, of the Cardwell Machine Co., of this city. The "Viola" arrived in this city late Friday afternoon from Norfolk where she was built under the supervision of her owner. She was launched with appropriate ceremonies last week. boat will be completed in about two weeks and will go in commission, conducting hunting parties to the marshes on the lower James. The Viola is finished in white cedar and oak, trimmed in white enamel and gold leaf. She is now lying at the foot of Ninteenth Street for inspection. The Viola was designed by Mr. M. P. McDonagh, Government inspector at the Trigg Works.

The Viola is the fastest launch affoat on the James, having a speed of 16 knots with a patent improved propeller, the invention of its owner and designer. Her length over all is 41 feet; eight-foot beam; depth, three feet and is equipped with a twenty horse-power Morse-Fairbank gasoline engine, which has also been improved by her designer. She is equipped with a powerful searchight and signalling can-non, and her finishings are of the latest pattern. The Viola cost $6,500, and is said to be the most modern and perfect gasoline launch afloat in this section. The intention of her owner is to conduct hunting parties in the winter and excursions in the summer. The Viola is open for inspection at the wharf.
